

The Agriculture Appropriations Committee Report (116-107) in the House of Representatives expressing Congress's view on an adequate funding level for FDA's Office of Dietary Supplement Programs in FY 20:

Dietary Supplements.—Within the increases provided for the Center for Food Safety and Applied Nutrition, the Committee provides an additional $3,000,000 for the Office of Dietary Supplement Programs (ODSP). More than half of Americans take at least one dietary supplement each day, with use particularly prevalent among older persons and in children. The Committee applauds FDA's inspection of and enforcement actions against manufacturers of dietary supplement products that contain ingredients that are potentially harmful or otherwise noncompliant with the law, but recognizes more resources are needed to regulate products that are contaminated either intentionally or unintentionally with inherently unsafe ingredients, including active pharmaceutical ingredients. The Committee has been pleased with the interagency collaborations and urges FDA to continue working with the Department of Justice to remove illegal dietary supplements from the market. The Committee directs these increased resources toward enforcement of DSHEA, including inspection and enforcement activities.
